CAMP BALL FIND GETS QUICK AD

Contributions Get Good Start in Plan to Build Grandstand at Camp Devens

They're scoring right in the first inning.

Who?

Contributors to the Boston American Camp Devens Baseball Fund.

The fund is a patriotic one, being raised to provide a superbly equipped baseball and athletic field for the 25,000 boys at Camp Devens. Land is donated by the government. But there is no appropriate available to erect spectators' stands for games.

WAR MILITARY APPROVAL

Make checks payable to "Robert C. Downing, treasurer." He is lieutenant colonel, Division Athletic Officer of the 7th Division, and is the one officially named by Major-General Henry H. Hodges, commander of the 7th Division, as the one to take charge of the fund.

The fund has military approval. Major-General Hodges wrote that while there are any number of good baseball fields in the making at Camp Devens, there is a great lack of seats or standing space at any of them.

His letter said in part:

"As regards the Boston AMERICAN's offer to start a popular subscription for the purpose of obtaining funds from the public for the erection of stands to which the visitors and spectators at games could be comfortable. I will say that this meets with my hearty favor, and I shall do all in my power to co-operate with you in this matter."

"There is at present no government funds available for the purpose of erecting these stands. If the public, however, are willing to contribute for this purpose, the quartermaster of this establishment is willing to furnish continued on Page 2, Column 4.

PERSHING AND FOCH WEAR SMILES OF VICTORY

Two fighting "men of the hour" snapped together. This most unusual and striking photograph, probably the only one in existence, showing General Foch, the generalissimo of all the allied armies, and General Pershing, commander-in-chief of the American Expeditionary Forces, in an optimistic pose. When General Pershing offered the immediate use of the American army in France to General Foch, Foch accepted at once, and the American army is already on its way to give battle to the Teutons.

URGENT PASSAGE OF THIRD BOND BILL IN SENATE

Washington, April 2.—The Senate Finance Committee this afternoon passed to recommend the immediate passage of the third Liberty bond bill, authorizing the issue of $400,000,000 new bonds and increasing the limit of certificates of indebtedness to $1,000,000,000. The only change made in the bill as it passed the House was the complete elimination of the section allowing banks to deduct the par value of Liberty bonds in computing their assets for tax.

RESOLVE TO SENATE TO TAKE PACKING PLANS

Washington, April 2.—A resolution for the government to take over the packing plants and operate them was introduced in the Senate this afternoon. It was referred to the agriculture committee. In the preamble of the resolution it was charged that the packing plants were largely responsible for the increasing cost of living and that they were causing unrest among the people.

CALL ON RAILROADS TO SHOW CREDITS AND CASH

Washington, April 2.—Through the Interstate Commerce Commission, Director-General of Railroads McAdoo requested railroad presidents to furnish detailed information as to the post balance to the credit of their companies, together with the cash on hand at the close of business March 31, 1918.

BRITISH RECAPTURE AYETTE; FRENCH TROOPS ADVANCE

Latest reports today from the Picardy battle front in France include the following features:

- 1---Failure was the German lot, whether against British or French troops. The London official statement today told of the repulse of a German attack in the Fampoux sector, north of Arras; of the recapture of Ayette, southwest of Arras, and of a successful raid by Lincolnshire troops near Loos, north of Lens. French troops repulsed Hun attacks south of Moreuil and near Rellet. The French gained ground north of Plesmont. At one point only did the Germans gain so much as a foothold in the front line trenches.
- 2---The tale of German loss grows. At least forty divisions of German "shock" troops have so far been wrecked in vain effort to smash through the allied line. These shattered divisions, according to latest estimates, suffered casualties running from 40 to 50 per cent.
- 3---The racked German fighting machine is believed to be gathering itself for another desperate effort, when the Teuton high command shall have brought its forces into strategic positions.
- 4---To help the allies hold their line and to support them in the renewed struggle which is expected America will strain every nerve to rush forward both men and munitions. Such is the official word from Washington. President Wilson today called in the 'War Council' to plan 'speeding up' measures.

WOMAN PLUNGES INTO CHARLES; DRAG RIVER

Soldiers See Leap From Bridge; Hat Found Floating Near the Dam

Two soldiers from the remount station at Camp Devens ran breathlessly into the Charles River station of the Metropolitan Park police, near the Boston end of the west Boston bridge, early today, and reported that they had just seen a woman jump from the bridge into the river on the down stream side.

The soldiers ran to the place on the bridge from which the woman had jumped, between second and third arches, but they found a woman's hat to see anyone struggling in the water. They then ran to the station, where they found a woman's handkerchief. They began dragging the water, about daylight they found a woman's hat floating near the dam, about one-fourth of a mile downstream from the West Boston bridge. Driggers was contacted today, in charge of station.

The Merchants' and Miners' Steamship Company, which went ashore in a log on March 12, was floated today and proceeded to an Atlantic port for repairs. The extent of her damage is yet known.

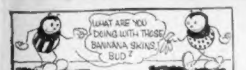

WAR BILLS GIVEN PRIORITY

THE MAN WITH BRAIN SHORTAGE USUALLY HAS LUNG POWER TO SPARE

BOSTON AMERICAN SPORTS

CUTSHAW REGISTERED HIGH

Expert Fullerton Has "Awkward George" Classed Best in National League

HUGH S. FULLERTON. In case anyone following my dope objects to the defensive value assigned to my shorthand or second baseman, he would do well to study the other man.

I find five second basemen in this class whose individual values are reduced because of lack of team work with the shortstops.

The National League second basemen this season do not promise much and they rely on closely together there is little advantage in any one. They are rather a surprise to find Pittsburgh, a team congested by many writers to talented hitters before they start, possessing the most competent second baseman in the lot.

This fellow Cutshaw is a regular player, and handles second base in a peculiar manner. His faces right field and has his back to second while on a defender, from which position he can go for and fast toward first and for out into right field after ground balls.

He is an extraordinary aid to his first baseman, allowing him to play close to the line and dealer, and, at the same time, gets back to second with.

EX-DODGERS GOOD ONE. Cutshaw has for years been the leader in starting double plays over any National League second baseman which is odd considering his position.

I understand Cutshaw was out of sympathy with the Brooklyn club. He is an intelligent man and a thinker and should do better with Red Sox than with Boston.

There is going to be a tremendous change for some youngsters in the National League this season. The league must develop some new second base material.

There are two American League second basemen who rank well up with the leading National League players. The New York Giants are weak there because Doyle is getting on and no longer can go far or fast. His broken leg, which slowed him up all through last year, ought to be stronger, and he can hit and be a better game.

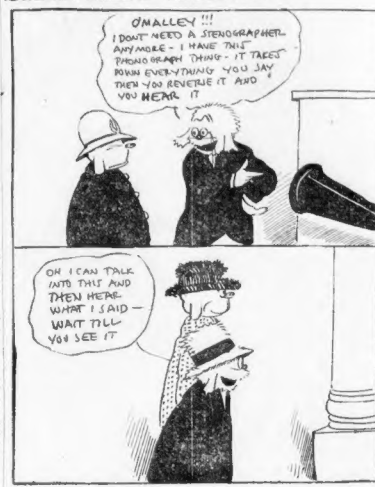

The Chicago Cubs have a sign of fighting. Klidoff is a better game than the majority league he is a regular hitting fellow, who goes in with his left leg. He is the Cubs' new hope on account of the Horace speaking.

MAKES DODGING HARD. Again we are against those hard doing, because we have to figure the average strength of two or more players in eleven of the sixteen clubs, which makes our figures when taken in connection with the fact that eight of the sixteen clubs will have new regular second basemen when the season starts down.

It would be much easier to do if we could wait, say to the middle of June, and go about from there.

SILK HAT HARRY

NEW YORK IS TO SEND OVER CIFTY HIVE TEAM.
Dave Kaminis, Clark Hulse A. A. and Dave Howe, Rutgers (105-pound class); James Tompkins, Boston (115-pound class); Arthur Schick, 125-pound class; Sam Mosberg, 135-pound class; James Bullock, 145-pound class, will form the Metropolitan District team coming over to the hub for the National A. A. C. boxing championship, at Buchanan's Building, next Monday and Tuesday nights.

The squad is one of the best ever handed together, so think Secretary Hudson and his associates, and is expected to win its share of the medals. The B. A. A. has established a downtown ticket office at No. 23 Second street, room 11. It will be kept open daily from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m.

PROVIDENCE SLATED TO ENTER EASTERN LEAGUE

The Eastern Basketball League managers are to get together at Springfield next Monday when all plans for the coming season will be completed. Providence is slated to come in, succeeding Portland, while Watbury is down to secure Lawrence's franchise.

RED SOX ENGAGE DODGERS AT WACO, TEX.

Combats in 16-Inning Skirmish Renew Hostilities Today; Shean Delivers

By HENRY L. DAILY
Waco, Tex., April 3.—The Red Sox and Dodgers were to renew their battling here today. It was a hot day from Houston and made early today with the Dodgers arriving in plenty of time for the hour.

At Houston yesterday, under a blazing sun and with the mercury 92 in the shade, wherever the shade was the two teams played what is probably the longest spring training game on record, the game extending through sixteen innings, with the Sox triumphing, 7 to 6.

It was a struggle of an old ball game. At the moment the Sox jumped the Red Sox, but the Sox were not to be outdone. The Sox were not to be outdone.

It's at Morse's, it's correct; If it's correct, it's at Morse's.

—it is one thing to preach, another to practise. Perhaps you have wondered sometimes, amid the flood of advertising advice to conserve, whether manufacturers confined themselves to preaching, and expected you to do the only practising.

So the House of Morse is going to issue a series of advertisements which will tell you in detail just how and where Morse-Made clothes help you to conserve, by giving you more style and fit and service for your money than most other brands.

These advertisements will be illustrated and authoritative. They will not contain the usual generalities you find in most clothing advertisements, but will get down at once to brass tacks. The first will appear in this paper on Thursday, April 4. Watch for it!
